

inpro –

Partnership, commitment and competence for the automotive production of tomorrow!

Who we are

inpro Innovationsgesellschaft für fortgeschrittene Produktionssysteme in der Fahrzeugindustrie mbH is a joint venture of the industrial corporate groups SABIC, Siemens and Volkswagen. At the Berlin location, inpro develops innovative software solutions and technologies for automotive production primarily for shareholders.

Looking for a new job and want to take on new challenges? Then apply now at inpro and support our development team in Berlin as a

Software Developer (m/f/d)

Your Tasks

- Software programming support
- Maintenance and optimization of existing code
- Finding solutions to problems in an independent and structured way
- Autonomous participation in project teams

Your Profile

- Experienced in the following areas: GUI programming, Tcl/Tk, C++ or Fortran, VTK
- Software design and quality assurance
- Basics of structural mechanics and FEM
- Passionate about innovation in the automotive industry
- Independent, solution-oriented, creative way of working, conscientiousness and with strong communication skills
- Successfully completed university studies

What we offer

- Interesting, challenging activities, quick decision-making processes in small, dynamic teams
- The possibility to fulfill your professional goals, through individual, professional, and personal further training
- Remuneration in line with market conditions, good professional development opportunities
- An open corporate culture, a modern and agile working environment in a prime Berlin city location
- Flexible working hours and arrangements for good work life balance, trust-based working hours & mobile working

Interested? Then send us your full application by e-mail or post: jobs@inpro.de